

MARLEY SPOON

Leek and Corn Risoni

with Watercress and Goat's Curd

 20min  4 Portions

With its small shape and bead-like texture, risoni is more like eating risotto than pasta. This vegetarian recipe combines the sweetness of leek and corn, with the freshness of watercress and parsley for a perfect springtime pasta, while a little goat's curd folded through before serving adds an irresistible creaminess to the lemon-infused sauce.

1. Prepare ingredients

Bring a medium saucepan of salted water to the boil for the risoni. Discard the dark green part of the leeks if any, then thinly slice the remainder. Crush or finely chop the garlic. Finely grate the rind of the lemon.

2. Prepare stock

Crumble stock cubes into a heatproof jug, add the boiling water (see staples list) and stir to combine.

3. Cook risoni

Cook the risoni in the pan of boiling salted water for 6-8 mins until al dente. Reserve 125ml (½ cup) cooking liquid, then drain the risoni in a sieve.

4. Cook aromatics

While the risoni is cooking, heat the oil and butter in a large saucepan over medium heat. Add the leek, garlic, lemon zest and salt and pepper, and cook, stirring, for 4 mins or until leek has softened. Add the corn and cook for 2 mins. Add the stock, bring to the boil, then reduce heat to low and keep hot.

5. Prepare herbs

While the leek is cooking, rinse the watercress and discard the thicker, woodier stalks. Finely chop the parsley leaves, including the stems.

6. Get ready to serve

Add the risoni and most of the goat's cheese to the corn mixture. Stir for 1-2 mins until the cheese is melted, adding some of the reserved cooking water to loosen the mixture if necessary. Season with salt and pepper, then stir in the watercress and parsley. Divide among bowls and dot with the remaining goat's cheese to serve.
